The United Nations Office for Disarmament Affairs (UNODA) presents its compliments to the Permanent Missions of Member States and Observer States to the United Nations and has the honour to convey herewith the agenda of the informal exchanges on Artificial Intelligence (AI) in the Military Domain and its Implications for International Peace and Security, which will be held in Geneva from 15 to 17 June 2026.

In line with the mandate contained in General Assembly resolution 80/58, the agenda is structured to facilitate a focused, policy-relevant and inclusive three-day exchange that allows States to further share perspectives on observations and conclusions as presented in the report of the Secretary-General entitled "Artificial Intelligence in the Military Domain and its Implications for International Peace and Security" (A/80/78). The agenda will cover the following thematic areas:

- Foundational terminology and concepts
- Current developments and trends
- AI life cycle in the military domain
- Convergences with other technologies
- International cooperation and capacity-building
- Information exchanges on existing initiatives
- Normative proposals
- Next steps

Please note the following arrangements regarding the conduct of the informal exchanges:

- Engagement in discussions: Participants are encouraged to engage in an interactive and substantive manner throughout the informal exchanges.

- Speakers: Most sessions will begin with a brief opening panel, unless otherwise indicated for specific sessions. UNODA will update the agenda with confirmed speakers and any further logistical information in due course.

- Order of interventions: Member States and observer States will be invited to speak first. After States have spoken, stakeholders will be invited to take the floor, time permitting.

- Guiding questions: The questions listed under each session are indicative and intended to help frame discussions and to stimulate reflection.

- Timekeeping: Participants are requested to observe the time limits indicated in the agenda for specific segments (e.g., the three-minute limit for general remarks during the opening session) to ensure the broadest possible participation.

- Factual summary and State views: In accordance with General Assembly resolution 80/58, a written factual summary of the informal exchanges will be submitted to the First Committee at its eighty-first session. In order to capture the full breadth of the exchanges, States will also have the opportunity to submit their views for inclusion in a compilation; further details will be announced in due course.

Further information regarding the meeting, including the agenda and logistical arrangements, is available on UNODA Meetings Place.

The United Nations Office for Disarmament Affairs avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the Permanent Missions of Member States and Observer States to the United Nations the assurances of its highest consideration.
